

Hello from Adelaide!

Welcome back to the Jane Hinchey show! Now that you've blasted your way through my first novel, I thought I'd tell you a little bit more about myself.

When I graduated from Business College, I didn't think I was going to be an author. In fact it took me over 20 years to write my first novel, and not because I'm a slow writer!

I've always been an avid reader and in my early twenties I had a vague dream that I'd like to write a book. Then I used every excuse under the sun NOT to write it, even though I told myself that I REALLY wanted to write a book.

I'd have a brilliant idea for a story, I'd start writing...then for one reason or another I'd stop. Could be writers block, could be because I didn't know what was going to happen next in my story, or maybe life got in the way and I was "too busy" to write.

In 2014 I pushed all those excuses aside and wrote my debut novel, First Blade. I'm now writing a five book series AND my first foray into dystopian/syfy.

There are few things as exhilarating as writing a creative and entertaining novel for you wonderful readers. I do a lot of other things on the side, but I think this is the one that brings me the most fulfilment.

I love connecting with people who read my books, I've listed my social media profiles below, if you'd like to come on over and say Hi, it'd be great to meet you. You can also hit reply to this email and let me know what you thought of First Blade, I'd love to hear from you.
