

Hello from Adelaide!

I've talked a ton about my writing, my current books and my future plans so I thought it time I got REALLY personal with you!

So you know I live in the City of Churches (aka Adelaide, South Australia) but in fact I'm English born, Aussie raised. You wouldn't know it when you hear my Aussie accent though, there really is no trace of the UK in me except for my delicate white skin...I burn within minutes of being in the sun.

I have two kids, a daughter and son, both are grown up and have dutifully provided me with a grandchild - and yes, I look too young to be a Grandma, thank you . You'll see the odd photo of them on my Facebook page from time to time, so make sure you Like my page to catch a glimpse.

I'm a total nerd/geek. I love playing the Sims, SimCity and Civilizations and when our internet goes down, well, it's not pretty. Something else I love to do when I'm not writing is mess around with websites. I was a web designer in a previous life, and while I don't do it as a business anymore, I do enjoy dabbling - and to save my own website from changing every week, I decided to create a handful of premade websites so fellow authors (or entrepreneurs) can grab a site and be ready to go with minimum fuss (and minimum $$$). Here's a little peek, 'cos I'm actually really pleased with how these turned out! (click on the picture below to go take a look)

And to wrap it up, I LOVE animals. Especially fluffy ones. Currently I have two cats, Maxx (orange/beige tabby) and Morgan (ragdoll). There has never been a time in my life when I haven't had a cat, I could quite happily become a crazy cat lady. I love dogs too, but my man doesn't, so we compromised and got a turtle. Who grew so damn much we had to build a pond for him because we couldn't afford to keep upgrading his indoor tank! I share most of my pet pics on Instagram.

That's me, in a nutshell. Does anyone else have that flashback to the Austin Powers scene of him in a nutshell? No? Just me then. So from this point on you'll start to see me promoting other authors in my newsletters, which will come out every couple of weeks. You'll get links to free books and special offers, but only for books that I think you'll enjoy. As an indie author its important to me that I support fellow authors...I believe we are collaborators not competitors - plus I know you love reading and if I can put a good book in your hands, I'm happy!

If you don't like all the free offers and promos you are welcome to unsubscribe, but I do hope you'll stick around.

xoxo
